

YourPrivateLine.com strikes deal

YourPrivateLine.com, an Internet-based phone system company, has joined forces with Fiber Network Solutions Inc. and ICG Communications in a step to build a worldwide telecommunications network.

Fiber Network Solutions is a network service provider.

“We chose FiberNet to provide our Internet backbone services because they are one of the top access providers in the United States and have the capacity to handle millions of simultaneous users connected to our network,” said James Kerr, president and chief executive officer of YourPrivateLine.com.

ICG Communications, a state-of-the-art telephone company, will be providing dial-tone services to YourPrivateLine.com.

“We picked ICG Communications because their dial-tone services run on a 100 percent digital fiber-optic network, and they have a nationwide network serving more than 700 cities across the United States,” Kerr said.
